ECHINOPS TAPLOW BLUE

We have a limited supply of this outstanding globe thistle to offer this spring. The globes are larger and of a blue much deeper in color than the ordinary eschinops ritro. It blooms on stalks about 3½ feet tall in July, and if the stalks are cut back when through blooming it will bloom again in September on shorter stems than the previous bloom. It is very effective in the garden and makes a long-lasting cut flower.

Plants that will bloom this year - 75¢ each, 3 for $2.00

(Note; Orders for echinops received after May 15 will be held for fall delivery.)

HEMEROCALLIS

The hemerocallis, commonly known as daylilies, will add soft or gay colors to your garden all through the season. An established clump of most varieties will bloom for a month, and some for a longer period, as some rebloom. A daylily needs to be left at least three years in a position before it gives its maximum performance. Use the clear yellow and cream-colored varieties to give sunshine color to your perennial border, and plant the strong-colored ones against evergreens or shrubs for a bold effect of "something different."

We send out strong roots, guaranteed true to name. They can be planted either spring or fall.
